Frequently Asked Questions

Do you work internationally?

Yes. Biggerplate is based in London (UK) but deliver our services around the world.

What about mind map software?

We do not make or sell mind mapping software, and software is not required for our training workshops. If you don't yet have (or understand) mind mapping software, then don't worry. We can tailor our training to suit your current familiarity with mind mapping software. If you already have mind mapping software selected, then we can focus our training on your specific software choice.
